

Out of a Job?

Get a World Postal
Card and advertise.

PRICE ONE CENT.

AN ADVERTISING MESSENGER---THE WORLD POSTAL CARD.

LAST EDITION.

EXTRA.

21 DEAD

Appalling Result of the Battle at Homestead.

More Than Sixty
Wounded, Some of Them Seriously.

Matters Have Quieted
Down Since the Surrender.

More Trouble Is Expected
and Mill Hands
Are Prepared.

New York Pinkerton
Agency Enlisting
Men for Homestead.

Preparing for the Funerals of Slaughtered
Mill Hands.

The mill hands locked out of the Carnegie Works at Homestead are resting on their beds today. Since the surrender and removal of Pittsburgh of the Pinkerton detectives described in the dispatches which follow, matters have been comparatively quiet in the town. But it is conceded on all sides that another attempt on the part of the Carnegie people to place Pinkerton guards in Homestead will be a signal for the renewal of hostilities, and as the mill hands are better armed today than they were yesterday such an attempt would be certain to result disastrously in the invading forces.

Killed and seriously injured in yesterday's battles, far as can be learned to-day, number 60, at least. This is a partial, and at the same time as complete a list as can be obtained.

THE DEAD.

Ferris, Peter, shot through stomach.
Ferrell, Martin, shot through heart.
Fergie, John, Hungarianaborer.
Fitter, J. H., Pinkerton man, shot through head.
Frederick, Henry, shot through neck.
Gibson, Joseph, shot through left breast.
Harris, John, shot through head.
Hawkins, Thomas, shot through neck.
Lester, Edward, Pinkerton man, shot in the head, New York.
Markwell, Jules, shot in head.
Morse, David, shot in breast.
Swanson, William, shot in stomach.

Two Pinkerton men, shot and fell overboard.
Two unknown Hungarians.

The Pinkerton men say that at least seven of their men were killed, three more than are accounted for in this list. It is thought likely that the bodies of the three are lying at the bottom of the Monongahela River.

THE WOUNDED.

Kearney, Anthony, Homestead.

Reiter, G. W., Homestead Steel Works, shot in hip.

Loughlin, Lawrence, Homestead Steel Works, thigh broken.

McCarty, Joseph, watchman on Little Bill, shot in groin.

Sutler, Andrew, Homestead ironworks, shot in leg.

Zelko, Joseph, Homestead laborer.

Wallace, William, Homestead laborer.

Murray, Michael, Homestead laborer, shot in right knee.

Johnson, William, Homestead, shot in hip.

O'Donnell, Hugh, Homestead, shot in hand.

McCurra, John, Homestead, shot in hand.

Trot, William, Homestead, laborer.

Wellis, Russell, Pinkerton, shot in leg.

Hughes, Harry, Homestead, shot in cheek.

Lester, David, Pinkerton.

Capt. Haney, Chief of Pinkertons.

Brid, Fred H., Chief of Detectives.

Schuyler, Andrew, Homestead, shot through leg.

Kane, John, Homestead, shot in leg.

Hoffman, J. G., detective.

Siegler, Daniel, detective, Philadelphia.

Gerbards, Fred, detective, New York.

Bulter, Ed, detective, Chicago.

Antberry, Fred, detective, Chicago.

Murphy, J. A., detective, Chicago.

Selvert, J. E., detective, Chicago.

Copert, C., detective, Brooklyn.

Lutz, John, detective, New York.

Gryan, Fred, detective, Philadelphia.

Prugh, John, detective, Chicago.

Lauer, Louis, detective, Chicago.

Reider, William, detective, Philadelphia.

Malors, Joseph, detective, Chicago.

Johnson, W. H., detective, Chicago.

McCrae, Patrick, detective, New York.

Wright, George, detective, New York.

Smith, John, detective, Philadelphia.

Fay, William, Homestead, Mill hand wounded in left breast.

Ritter, George, Homestead, mill hand, bullet penetrated thigh.

Ruslky, Henry, Homestead, laborer, shot in shoulder.

Cudia, Andrew, Homestead, laborer, bullet in arm and thigh.

Douska, Charles, Homestead, laborer, shot in thigh.

quiet at Homestead this morning. The locked-out workmen of the Carnegie mills are resting, but with eyes alert, for the air is full of rumors of the approach of Sheriff McCleary, armed posse, or militia.

The mill hands wear anxious but determined faces. They offer up a prayer for peace, while their fingers nervously clutch pistol grip, and their eyes wander furtively, searching, from point to point.

They say that they expect no further trouble. They scout the idea that Sheriff McCleary was in earnest when he issued last night's call to "All good citizens" to appear at his office at 10 o'clock this morning, which is 10 o'clock New York time, armed and equipped with sustenance. At 9 o'clock a report was received that the Little Bill was coming up the river again, and then another that there was a barge coming from Pittsburgh. The guard on the river bank was doubled, but many of the men slept in confidence that the company was too thoroughly thwarted to attack, and more detectives to the scene.

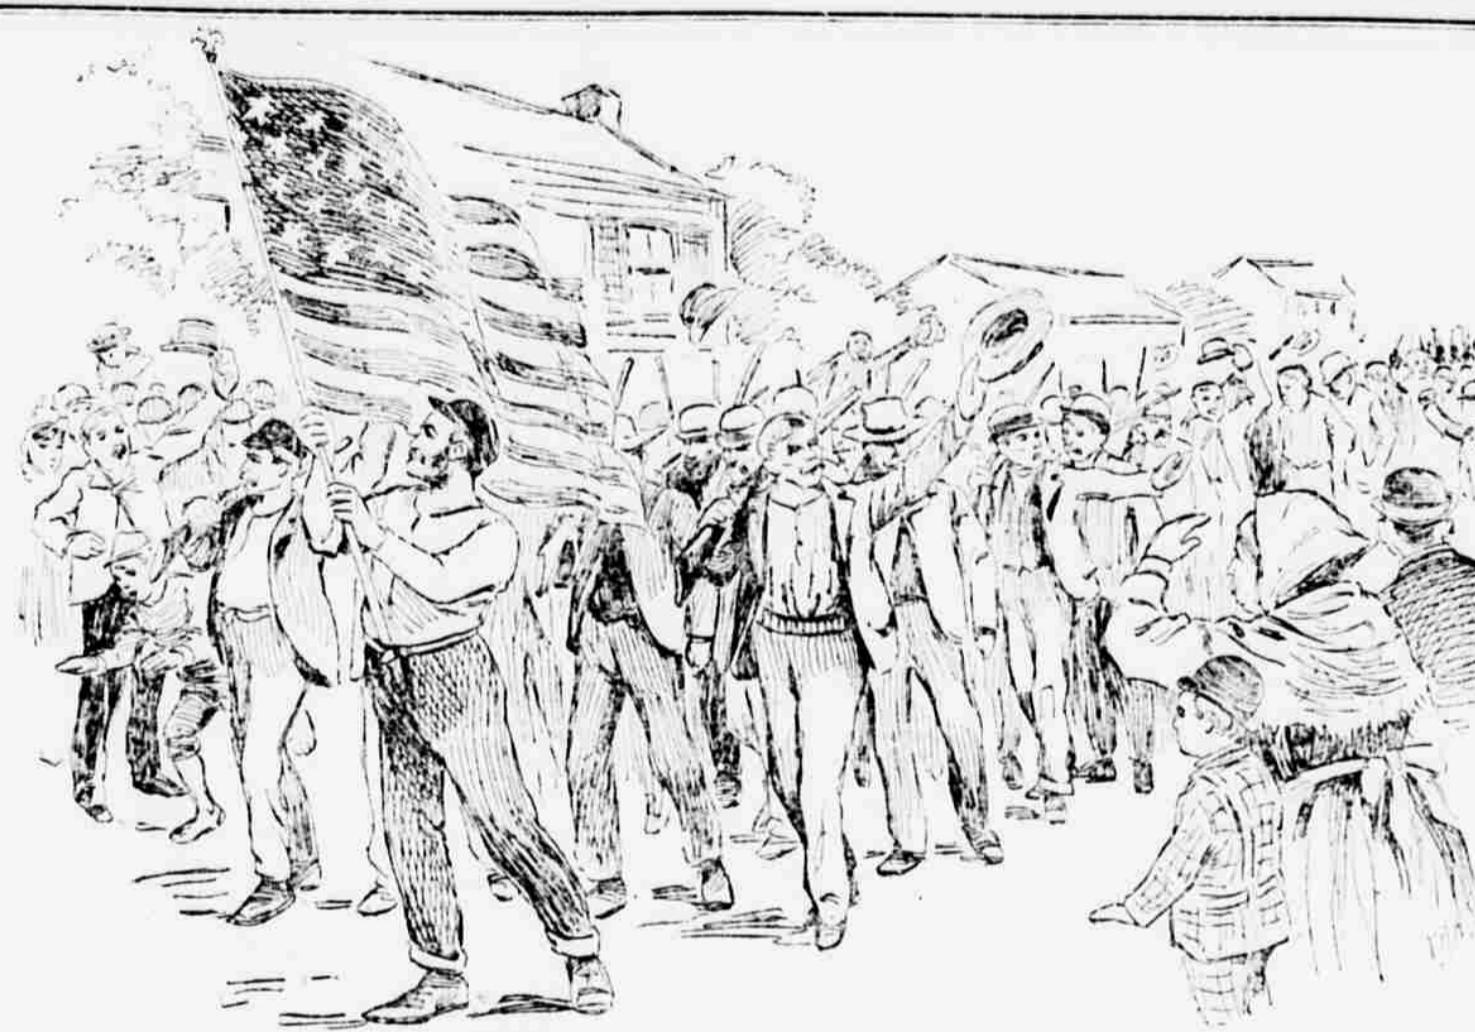

The mill hands' leaders think it exceedingly improbable that the firm could get more men just now for guard duty. It is certain that many homes in Homestead are arsenals, for the men captured 500 rifles in the barges, and they know how to use them, too, now and will if other men are brought here. They do not themselves look upon this as a decisive contest, and they expect other battles.

As the smoke clears away the mill men realize that this move to put the works in the care of Pinkerton detectives was contemplated and prepared for weeks ago, before there was the first breath of trouble, and thus thought maddens the workers.

When shortly after midnight the volunteer deputy sheriffs of the Amalgamated Association assisted the Pinkertons imprisoned in the Rink Opera-House to depart from there it was the signal for a relapse into quiet, but it was an armed invasion, and the workmen have not ceased one whit their alertness and determination.

The fight ceased for the time because there was nobody left to fight. The Pinkertons were permitted to return to Pittsburgh, and about thirty of them were taken directly to the hospitals, there to have their wounds dressed.

SOME OF THE INJURED.
There are eighteen men at the West Penn-

ESCORING THE CAPTURED PINKERTONS TO JAIL.

Pinkertons had laid down their arms.

An EVENING WORLD reporter succeeded in getting a word from two of them, but their names were not divulged. Said one of them:

"I did not know that we were going as an army to invest Homestead. I supposed we were to go simply as workmen."

But we were on those barges and one could not get away. Bullets struck the barges and penetrated the sheath-like houses or shelters, and those of us who did not get hit were lucky. I never passed through an experience so terrible in all my life, and I hope never to again."

The other detective said:

"We were just as much the victims of a deputy sheriff, in response to the proclamation issued by the sheriff late last night.

It is said that the sheriff was, and is doubtless how to act. At any rate the men are not being sworn in as yet, and the sheriff is closeted with advisers.

The report that Gov. Pattison had come to town seems to be without foundation, at least no one can be found who knows anything about it. The streets of Pittsburgh are filled with people who peruse the many newspapers and scrutinize the bulletins.

There is apprehension of some unexpected outbreak at Homestead like that which started and horrified the city yesterday morning.

10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.

This call to arms was the result of word from Pittsburgh that the office of Sheriff McCleary was surrounded by a body of citizens, who were on the eve of a riot.

"10:30 A. M.—Deputy Sheriff Marshall, who has in charge the work of swearing in the代替的 of 250 men, says lugubriously that there has not been a single volunteer, and only twenty-five men have obeyed the peremptory summons addressed to them by Sheriff McCleary. The summons reads like this:

"Mr. ——. You are hereby summoned to appear at Sheriff's office on Monday morning,

"10:30 A. M.—A report has just reached here that Sheriff McCleary has released from custody the captured Pinkerton men who were taken to Pittsburgh. The report has caused intense feeling, and the act is regarded as a breach of trust.